3. INTRODUCTION

MC2 Composite Capability List contains those Component/Parts which can be either checked/inspected, tested, repaired and/or overhauled at the MC2 Composite Facilities.

Only the current CAPLIST according to the FAA approval letter is valid.

The Maintenance of the Component/Parts is based on the Component/Part Manufacturer Maintenance/Technical Manuals – Manufacturer's Structural Repair Manuals – Aircraft Maintenance Manuals and other relevant approved maintenance data.

Main components are listed in capability list. Sub-components of main components are not listed in the list but sub-components covered by the same maintenance data is also accepted as they are in the capability if all maintenance requirements are met.

Standart Practice Section of SRMs (Chapter 51, Chapter 54-0X) are considered as a part of maintenance data given in the list.

The use of “” (asterisk) as a wildcard in computer managed information systems is a long-standing de facto standard. The “” (asterix) symbol in columns (2) and (5) on the list represents the potential variations in information.

A Release may be issued to a component iaw Airworthines Documents, Service Bulletins, Technical Disposition etc. which doesn't exist in the reference section of capability list provided they are approved data.

An Authorized Release Certificate will be issued by certifying staff after the completion of any maintenance.

4. DEFINITIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS
